

IBD Boston

HILTON BOSTON PARK PLAZA

SEPTEMBER 13-14, 2024

Join us in-person for IBD Boston 2024!

Each year, the Boston IBD conference brings top gastroenterologists from North America together with up-and-coming Boston area specialists for a 1.5 day CE program.

This program is designed to stimulate conversations about how to initiate practice changes in the diagnosis and management of patients with Crohn's disease (CD) and ulcerative colitis (UC). Through keynote talks and panel discussions, you will be challenged to develop innovative strategies to improve the quality of life for your patients while prolonging clinical remission. The city of Boston provides an excellent backdrop for this educational and networking experience – we hope you can join us in person this year.

Education program is provided by:

- Boston University Chobanian & Avedisian School of Medicine | Barry M. Manuel Center for Continuing Education

In conjunction with:

- Boston Medical Center
- Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center
- Brigham and Women's Hospital
- Boston Children's Hospital
- Lahey Hospital & Medical Center

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will be able to:

- Discuss the role of artificial intelligence in diagnosing and monitoring IBD.
- Describe emerging agents for IBD in terms of therapeutic target, safety and efficacy data, and place in therapy.
- Delineate the utility of point of care intestinal ultrasound as a modality in monitoring IBD disease activity.
- Apply patient-specific needs in selecting a biologic for a patient with IBD (personalized medicine).
- Review the evidence regarding the role of therapeutic drug monitoring and combination therapy in pediatric and adult IBD
- Describe the risk factors for the development or intestinal cancer in IBD, and the role of surveillance.
- Characterize the hepatic extraintestinal manifestations of IBD, including hepatitis and primary sclerosing cholangitis.
- Plan to implement current approaches for the management of postoperative recurrence in CD.
- Describe the medical and surgical approaches in patients with severe UC and pouchitis.
- Discuss how health disparities and racism impact outcomes in IBD patients.
- Engage members of the interprofessional team (e.g., gastroenterologists, pharmacists, behavioral health) to support successful transition of patients from pediatric to adult care.
