Developmental-Behavioral
Pediatric Conference:
Clinical Problems in Primary Care

March 8-9, 2024

Boston University Charles River Campus/Virtual Boston, Massachusetts

Overview

This annual two-day accredited conference celebrates its 40th anniversary in 2024!. It is designed for practicing clinicians who have an interest, passion or emerging expertise in developmental and behavioral pediatrics and want to take their knowledge and skill to the next level.

Many clinicians and allied medical professionals do not feel adequately trained when in practice and yet they face these challenges with patients and families every day. The course offers practical approaches to these issues, and we welcome participants from a broad array of disciplines including physicians, advance practice providers, nurses, social workers, and allied medical professionals who work in Pediatrics and the broader medical community.

Target Audience

This program is designed for the entire pediatric healthcare team: primary care physicians, pediatricians, pediatric nurse practitioners, nurses, physician assistants, social workers, child mental health professionals and family nurse practitioners.

Learning Objectives

Through lectures and question and answer sessions, participants at the conclusion of this conference will be able to:

- Explain the role of family structure as broadly defined in Developmental-Behavioral Pediatric topics.
- Discuss a variety of DBP topics using the lens of neurodiversity
- Describe the latest clinical information on a variety of other developmental and behavioral issues in children and families.
- Demonstrate enhanced teamwork skills through improved communication, shared decision-making, and coordinated care within the healthcare team

About Dr. Parker

Steven Parker, MD graduated from Cornell University, University of Michigan Medical School and completed pediatric residency at Stanford University Hospital. He completed a fellowship at Children's Hospital of Boston with T. Berry Brazelton in Child Development. He started his career in private pediatric practice but after 3 years joined the faculty at Boston University School of Medicine and Boston Medical Center (the former Boston City Hospital) and he became Director of Developmental and Behavioral Pediatrics in 1994, a position he served for over 13 years. He founded and directed the Comprehensive Care Program at BMC – a national model in family centered care for children with developmental disabilities. He published extensively on many areas in DBP and also was the voice of pediatrics for WebMD. His compassion, wisdom and insight in supporting children and families across Boston and the country will not be forgotten. In addition, he cofounded this conference in 1984 with Dr. Barry Zuckerman and it is in his memory that we hold the annual Steven J. Parker Memorial Developmental Behavioral Pediatrics Conference. We hope for all participants that it is an annual opportunity to revisit the topics that are at the core of pediatric practice and to remember Steve's own advice for parents from his blog:

"Enjoy your kids! Enjoy the ride! Someday soon you'll wonder how it all went by so fast and why you didn't appreciate it more as it was happening."
